

Custom Layouts is now Custom Layout Set

Custom Layouts is now called Custom Layout Set, this means that from today, all 3 formats (Presentation, Panel Discussion and Talk Show) will be available in one Custom Layout Set.

Your Custom Layouts will not be deleted and the two other formats will be added. For example, if you have a Custom Layout for Panel Discussion, the Talk Show and Presentation formats will now be included in the default layout.

As a result of this update, you may notice a slight change in behaviour when using Manual Mode. Starting today, only the formats from the selected Custom Layout Set will appear in the "Select layout" dropdown when in Manual Mode.

If you need to change the entire Custom Layout Set during an ongoing production, you can do so through the segment settings in the control panel when using a rundown. If you are not using a rundown, the change can be made from the settings page in the control panel.

This change is designed to simplify switching between different formats when using a Custom Layout Set.
